TWO INDICTED IN CONNECTION WITH ESCAPE TRIAL

Indictments Returned Against Two Winchester Prisoners for Helping In Attempt To Escape.

Winchester, Ky., Dec. 5 .- Isaac Miller, of Fayette county, serving a three months sentence in Clark county jail for alleged violation of the prohibition laws, and O. M. Morgan, of Carlisle, were indicted by the grand jury here today, charged with aiding and abetting an alleged attempt of Scobee Hardman and John Schumaker to escape from the jail a month ago.

Hardman is held without bail under an indictment charging him with the murder of Leon Renaker, bluegrass "turkey king" here last July, and Schumaker is under a life sentence for the alleged killing of his father, a Clark county farmer.

Morgan was arrested November 11, charged with smuggling duplicate keys to the jail into Hardman's cell, and has been at liberty on $1,000 bail furnished by Hardman's father. He asserts that he was employed by the Hardman family to investigate facts surrounding the Renaker murder, for which Hardman and Reese Fox, charged in connection with the killing and Mrs. Nancy Catherine Renaker, the widow, indicted for alleged conspiracy, will go on trial Monday.

Officers alleged they have established that "Ike" Miller made impression of five inside and outside jail keys when allowed on several occasions to answer long distance telephone calls in one of the rooms of Jailer Carroll Azbill when the jailer was out of town. Mrs. Azbill gave the prisoner access to the rooms, it is said, as Mrs. Miller called him frequently, about the time that unknown persons on two successive night fired several shots near the Miller home in Fayette county, where Mrs. Miller was living.

Separate indictments found charge Miller and Morgan each with personally aiding and abetting Scobee Hardmen and John Schumaker in an at-

CITY LOSES IN ATTEMPT TO RECOVER WET FINE

Judge Newell Sustains Demurrer in City Fine Suit Which Means that Fine Goes to State Instead of City.

In the case of the City of Maysville vs. James B. Key, Circuit Clerk, in which the city sought to have returned to the city treasury the sum of $100 being the amount of a fine assessed against William Edgar for a violation of the prohibition law, which was appealed to Circuit Court and there paid, the state won yesterday.

The city contended that inasmuch as the fine was assessed in the city court and the city was affirmed in the Circuit Court on appeal, the amount of the fine should be paid into the City Treasury. The District Attorney and the County Attorney contended that the fine went to the state and was distributed in the usual manner. Circuit Clerk James B. Key, who collected the fine, wanted the court to determine to which of the two contenders he should pay the fine. District Attorney Grannis and County Attorney Rees, representing the state, filed a demurrer to the city's petition and the demurrer was sustained with leave to appeal. The city will probably carry the case to the court of appeals.

NEW FACTS ON MERCHANT MARINE.

It is not surprising that the President's address to Congress on the merchant marine received close attention and was accorded hearty applause, for the address presented a number of new viewpoints of the subject, which had hitherto received little or no consideration.

For instance, how many had considered the ship bill from this viewpoint? "I am not asking your authorization of a new and added draft on the Public Treasury; I am appealing for a program to diminish the burden we are already bearing." The President then went on to show that under Government operation the present merchant marine, with 2,250,000 tons active, is costing $50,000,000 over and above receipts to operate. The ship aid bill calls for $30,000,000 annually to be derived from customs duties.

How many laymen had considered this factor? "We are wearing out our ships without any provision for replacement.....Only a few years of continued losses on capital account will make these losses through depreciation alone to exceed the fifty millions a year now drawn to cover losses in operation." That means the end of The children are nestled together, a marine for which the Democratic Administration soaked the American people more than $3,000,000,000.

How many had thought of these comparisons? "We have aided industry through our tariffs; we have aided railway transportation in land grants and loans; we have aided the construction of market roads and the improvement of inland waterways; we have aided reclamation and irrigation and the development of water power; we have loaned for seed grains in anticipation of harvests. We spend millions in investigation and experimentation to promote a common benefit, though a limited few are the direct beneficiaries. We have leaned hundreds of millions to promote the marketing of American goods." Why should we not establish and maintain American market highways on the seas? Shipping is our one unprotected industry.

How many knew this of the bill? "Though differeing in detail, it is not more in proportion to their population and capacity than other great nations have done in aiding the establishment of their merchant marines. . . . I hope it is seemly to say it, because it must be said, the maritime nations of the world as in complete accord with the opposition here to the pending measure." Foreigners would deliver our goods.

How many had given this a thought? "Congress has created by law conditions surrounding labor on American ships which shipping men the world over declare result in higher costs of operation under our flag. I frankly rejoice if higher standards of labor on American ships have been established. Merest justice suggests that when Congress fixes these standards it is fair to extend Government aid in maintaining them until world competition is brought to the same high level, or until our shipping lines are so firmly established that they can face world competition alone."

How many were aware that "the approximate sum of five millions annually paid for the transport of ocean mails is no new expenditure?" and that "the loan fund to encourage building is not new; it is the law already enacted by the essential unanimous vote of Congress? It is only included in the pending bill in order to amend so as to assure the exaction of a minimum interest rate b ythe Government, whereas the existing law leaves the grant of building loans to any whim of favoritism.'

Here are six new ideas, and there were several more while the old ones still remain sound. The President's address added much to public understanding of the merchant marine problems.

WOULD IGNORE CONSTITUTION.

Exclaiming, "What's the Constitution among politicians?" Senator Caraway, Democrat, of Arkansas, has introduced a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the Senate that all members of both Houses defeated for reelection should abstain from voting during the remainder o their terms, and that chairmen of important committees not in sympathy with the results of the recent election should give way to other men. Of course the resolution will not be adopted but it show the radical trend of thought of some Democrats, and the unscrupulous means they would use to attain their ends if they could have their own way. The mere fact that hundreds of thousands of people would be deprived of representation in the ship subsidy debate and in other important pieces of legislature means nothing to such as Caraway.

All attention is now turned to the Christmas shopping. While doing your shopping, don't forget the unfortunate poor of the city who will have no Christmas unless you and others like you remember them.

A poor man's wife was murdered in New York and before a week had elapsed the mystery was solved and the murderer arrested. A rich woman's husband was murdered months ago and all sorts of investigations were held but the "mystery" has not been solved.

The opening of the non-pooled tobacco market here Tuesday will distribute quite a neat sum of money in this section and will greatly help business conditions in Maysville. Christmas shopping should pick up because of this distribution of funds.

--x--M. Clemenceau may be known in France as the "Tiger" but in America e will from now on be known as the frank Frenchman."

News items in Tuesday's newspapers tell of the death of three and the serious, probably fatal injury, of three others by automobiles in the state of Ohio. Where can we find it-this bluebird of happiness, ever so elusive and always so hard to hold once we do clasp it tightly to our breasts. Jack Lee felt it was his for all time. In his little city home there was a wife to face the world with him, and with him to battle through to Success. There was a child who meant everything. And there was a home to keep-a prize well worth the struggle.

Almost before he knew it the change came, His wife was different;; there was deception in her manner and in her vague excuses. She had become a bosom companion of an unscrupu

She brought a young millionaire into Mrs. Lee's life, and with him came midnight suppers, afternoon teas, and an extravagance that made Jack's existence a constant worry. The bluebird that he had captured was lost.

Jack was employed by James Bascom, a wealthy architect. Bascom also had puzzled about the modern woman. His daughter Elise was the modern girl. Cigarettes, flasks, rouge, all night parties, and a love of luxury seemed to be her main purpese in life. The only other purpose was marriage-to enough money. She had chosen James Beldon, the same millionaire whose attentions to Mrs. Lee were now becoming insistent; spurning the love of a man who offered only a simple home and a pure heart.

Meanwhile Mrs. Lee, surrounded by a band of parasites, blinded by the false glare of their hectic social gatherings; intoxicated by their extravagances and luxurious tastes, came near to ruining her husband. The "Gas House District" has a fascination for all New Yorkers. Over and about old Avenue A, it is the scene of much of the distress of the metropolis, and a great deal of it's nonest labor. It is in greater promnence just now because it is from that district that Governor-elect Al Smith ame, and one of the proudest boasts of the Boys' Club located there is that 'Al" was a member when a boy. This club was founded by the late E. H. Harriman, and is yet under the patronage of that family. All the kiddies who cannot find room in the movie auditorium of the Club go to the District Moving Picture Theater, the "Avenue A." Every mother's son was yelling himself foarse the other night when pictures of the god Al were thrown upon the screen. And just then angry ongues of flame shot out from the operator's booth. It looked like a panic and the tune "East Side, West Side failed to hold the youngsters in their seats. A solicitious manager got on the job, applying the pyrene extinguisher and his own soothing assurances, and "All around the town" was soon resmued by the audience. Who knows but what some other future governor was spared to our state?

Here's one more proof of davertising. A baby in the upper end of the city toddled away from home the other day and landed, as usual, in the police stations, whre the officers waited for some one to telephone and report a ost child with yellow haid and blue eyes. After four hours, no call had "We'll have to send her down to the Children's Society if some one doesn't appear soon," they sighed. 'Say," said one rookie on the force, 'Did you ever try putting 'em up in the big window. Maybe with that kind of advertising, some one might recognize her." So up went goldilocks with a penned sign above her "LOST BABY". Sympathetic mothers stopped and looked at her regretfully, until suddenly one little girl en route from school, exclaimed, "Why there's the baby from the apartment across the hall from us." And home the lost one

There are artistic dilletante among our burglaries as well as any of our more conventional people. Thieves who enered the home of Mrs. Thyra S. Winslow, short story writer of Kew Gardens, Long Island, the other night, proved it. They stole only a bottle of old port and a loose-leaf notebook on which Mrs. Winslow had jotted down memoranda for plots of stories.

The Following Statement Should Form Conclusive Proof of Merit To Every Maysville Reader.

Could stronger proof of the merit of any remedy be desired than the state-ments of grateful endorsers who say their confidence has been undiminished by lapse of time? Its from a Maysville resident: Mrs. M. Holliday, 221 East Second street, says: "My back became weak and lime and ached across my kidneys. My kidneys acted irregularly and I was dizzy and had headaches. I used Doan's Kidney Pills bought at Wood Son's Dong Stone and they relieved BY A DOG BELIEVED MAD. ine of the attack." ## RACE WITH DEATH

That's what Priscilla Dean did in The Conflict" at the Pastime this afternoon, tonight and tomorrow, with a mighty roar the dam blew up and the mighty waters rushed down the ravine carrying thousands of logs and Priscilla Dean to an almost sure death. Never was there such a race as that between the maid and the maddened waters; never before was so thrilling a scene acted on the screen at the Pastime. The picture makes the audience hold their breath and fairly takes them out of their seats when they see the dare devil woman leap from log to log as they go rushing, crushing, with the violent torrent down the ravine, taking everything in their path.
